

Casings

Lodi Lumber Company

Casings are typically used to conceal the gap between the drywall and the door or window frame. Generally, the casing is thicker than the baseboard.